

Home Projects Schools Regions Areas of Inquiry Grants Resources About People

COVID-19 Global Fund

This new fund seeks projects that respond to the special circumstances of global research in COVID times in two ways:

1. Projects oriented to COVID-19 and the global pandemic as an object of study/inquiry. All disciplinary approaches are welcome. Interdisciplinary approaches are especially encouraged.
2. Projects oriented to novel ways of pursuing global research/inquiry in response to the constraints and changes of navigating a COVID-19 world. All disciplinary approaches welcome. Interdisciplinary approaches are especially encouraged.

Download Description as PDF

Proposals should be submitted to Cliff Maxwell (cam4z) as a single PDF via email.

Award Cycle: Rolling

Grant size ($): up to 15,000

Total funding available over academic year ($): 100,000 (roughly half each semester).

Description:

Mission: The mission of the Center for Global Inquiry + Innovation (CGII) is to stimulate research addressing problems and challenges of global scale, scope, concern, perspective, and impact. “Global research/inquiry” is an elastic term that links the local and the planetary, aims to expand the compass and range of disciplinary commitments and possibilities, and seeks to promote collaboration among UVa colleagues and with colleagues beyond UVa and outside the U.S.

How to apply: Proposals should be a single document not exceeding three pages (excluding CVs), and should include the following:

- Name of PI and all co-participants, with affiliations.
- Title of Project. Total amount requested.
- Proposed activity and research/inquiry significance.
- Narrative of proposed use of funds (be specific).
- Description of submitters' contributions.
- Timeline of proposed activity.
- Statement of outcome (e.g., publication, outside grant proposal, performance/exhibition/installation, policy report or recommendation, creation of research tool) with time of expected realization.
- Statement of how proposed activity will advance CGII's mission.
- Statement of IRB status.
- Statement of co-funders, if any.
- Budget and narrative, including a clear statement of how the project could go forward with less.
- 1-2 page CV for PI.

MOST RECENT

ATTENTION: Update on how UVa's Covid-19 response will affect CGII applicants and awardees.

Posted on 03/18/2020

From Great Wall to New Silk Road: Global Innovation, Sustainability and International Standardization in US-China Relations

Posted on 01/30/2020

Key Chinese Terms for the Study of Religion: An Experiment in De-Centering Disciplinary Discourse

Posted on 12/17/2019

Catalyzing a high-impact network of researchers in the Lower Mekong Region

Posted on 12/04/2019

Aesthetics Embodied: Santa Muerte and San la Muerte

Posted on 12/04/2019

One West Range, Hotel A
PO Box 400282
Charlottesville, VA 22904-4282
EMAIL: cam4z@virginia.edu

Notice of Non-Discrimination and Equal Opportunity | Report a Barrier | Privacy Policy

© 2020 By the Rector and Visitors of the University of Virginia

YouTube

Twitter

Facebook

LinkedIn

Instagram